January 16, 2013

7pm at

Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS)
Carver Educational Services Center Auditorium

850 Hungerford Drive, Rockville Md. 20850

On January 16th we're bringing together top decision makers in Montgomery County from the Police, Board of Education, MCPS and County Council to discuss how to make our schools safer. This is a rare opportunity for us all to have an open, honest and productive discussion concerning school safety and emergency preparedness, in the light of the tragic school shooting in Newtown, Connecticut. Bring your questions and concerns; it's time for courageous conversations.

Speakers Include:

- ♦ Montgomery County Police Chief Tom Manger, Commander Luther Reynolds and Law Enforcement Officials
- ♦ MCPS Deputy Superintendent for School Support and Improvement Beth Schiavino-Narvaez, Ed.D.
- ♦ Board of Education President Christopher Barclay & Board members
- ♦ MCPS School Safety & Security: Robert Hellmuth, Director & Douglas Steel, Supervisor
- ♦ Montgomery County Council: Craig Rice, Vice President & Phil Andrews, Chair of the Public Safety Committee

Moderated by Ed Clarke

Retired MCPD Captain/District Commander and former Director of Safety and School Security for MCPS
